2025 NUBE Conference

December 8-10, 2025
New Orleans, LA

New Orleans is calling! From December 8-10, 2025, get ready to forge valuable connections with influential professionals in the dynamic field of emergency psychiatry. The Big Easy becomes the focal point for participants from across the United States converging on the annual event National Update on Behavioral Emergencies (NUBE) Conference hosted by AAEP. This gathering serves as a platform for the organization's overarching mission: to establish standards fostering excellence in care, educate the public and health professionals on crisis and emergency mental health care, advocate for research in these critical areas, promote training and ongoing education for health professionals in crisis settings, and facilitate fellowship among members. Join us in NOLA this December and put your brand at the center of innovation and influence!

AAEP Publications

The AAEP e-Newsletter is a brief monthly online publication providing important updates and information pertaining to our organization and industry. Up to 12 issues are circulated annually to a network of nearly 3,000 professionals in and around emergency psychiatry.

The AAEP Journal, an annual to bi-annual original publication of peer-reviewed work, is written specifically for our multi-disciplinary membership, including: psychiatrists, emergency physicians, nurse practitioners, social workers, physician assistants, psychologists, marriage and family therapists, crisis counselors, residents and many more. This premier member-exclusive online journal is packed with up-to-date information on research, policy, advocacy, trends, programs, and best practices in emergency psychiatry. Leaders depend on AAEP communications for timely reviews of new resources, insights into professional development and research, and highlights on exemplary leaders in the industry.

The annual National Updates on Behavioral Emergencies (NUBE) Conference Program is handed out to each attendee at onsite registration. This pocket guide contains valuable details regarding education scheduling, FAQs, networking events, and other pertinent information.
